

COLLEGE OF MICRONESIA-FSM
BOARD POLICY No. 8019

---

Intellectual Property

Date Adopted: 21 May 2002

Date Revised: 11 December 2009

Date Reviewed: 28 May 2004, 11 December 2009, and 6 July 2021

References:

Definition

Intellectual property includes:

1. Computer software purchased or acquired for use by COM-FSM.
2. Written works, in any form, accessed or manipulated using technology-based tools including, but not limited to, reports or publications and web pages.
3. Other content including, but not limited to digital images (original, scanned or digitized reproductions) audio, and video.

Applications

Materials available on the Web or in other electronic formats are considered intellectual property and are protected by international copyright law unless a disclaimer or waiver expressly states otherwise. You may not copy or redistribute any materials owned by others, i.e. copyrighted works, without the expressed permission of the copyright owner, except under provision of fir academic use.