Board Approves Streamlining Recommendations

At their December 8 - 9, 2010, meeting in Chuuk, the College of Micronesia-FSM Board of Regents endorsed recommendations from the College to streamline operations at the College. According to information presented to the board, the streamlining will position the College to be more proactive in its responses to external and internal factors affecting the College. The streamlining will also help to develop a more sustainable system of higher education in the FSM. The new structure will base improvement on performance management and key performance indicators. The change will set the foundation for sustainable staffing patterns that will also control the expansion of programs and facilities for long term sustainability.

The following are the changes that are expected to take place: the campus directors to report directly to the president with a primary focus on stakeholder management; academic coordinators to report directly to the vice president for instructional affairs, the director of academic programs and indirectly to the academic division chairs; vocational career coordinators to report directly to the vice president of instructional affairs and the director of vocational programs with the exception of Pohnpei Campus where it is proposed that the vocational and career coordinator position will come into effect as soon as the academic and vocational programs transitioning process between National and

Pohnpei and National Hold 52nd Commencement Exercises

A total of 120 students from the Pohnpei and National campuses took part in the graduation ceremony at the National Campus. The 52nd Commencement Exercises, which was held at the FSM/China Friendship Sports Center, brought together over 700 people from around Pohnpei and the FSM. Six graduated with bachelor's degrees and they were Merleener Elias of Pohnpei, Jennifer Hainrick of Pohnpei, Dean Anthony Likor of Pohnpei, Babyano Retuleilug of Yap, Roland Saul of Pohnpei and Mason Tihpen of Pohnpei. According to President Spensin James, three out of the six graduates were listed among the top five graduates under the UOG School of Education this year. Special academic awards for fall 2010 were also presented during the ceremony to the top students under each program. The awardees include Jasmine Mendiola-Reyes from the Associate of Arts in Liberal Arts Program who was also the Valedictorian, Jeffrey Allen Yamada as the Salutatorian, Lumileen Saimon from the Associate of Arts

Editor's Notes

A special holiday greeting to all our readers! This 5th issue of volume 3 of the COM-FSM Sharks newsletter covers the months of November and December. We are thankful for the many contributors to this edition. If I could impose new year's resolutions on others, then I would make it a new year's resolution to require continuous contributions from all campuses and offices.

A special thank you goes out to the following contributors: Virendra Mohan Verma from Kosrae Campus, Gardner Edgar from Pohnpei Campus, Emily Pedneau from National Campus, Ross Perkins from Yap Campus, Jim Currie from National Campus, Geraldine Mitagoyow from Yap Campus, Bruce Robert from National Campus, Murukesan Krishnapillai from Yap Campus, SBA Media Relations from the National Campus, Rencelly Nelson the National Campus and Karleen Manuel from the National Campus. If I missed any names, please note this it is not intentional. Keep them coming!

Campus-wide Briefs

Three Receive Substance Abuse Art Awards

On November 17, 2010, three students received awards for submitting entries in to the Substance Abuse Awareness Art contest at the National Campus. The first price went to Loyola Malmai; the second to Nixon Soswa; and the third went to Jermis Noket. The theme of the competition was "Killed or Be Killed." The competition was sponsored by the Peer Counseling Program.

The Introduction to Drama students conducted their final examination through a drama presentation of 10-minute original plays at the FSM-China Friendship Sports Center on December 3, 2010. The play was written, directed and performed by students of the class. Close to 200 people attended the event. The students prepared five original plays through the guidance of Professor Rohaizad Suaidi, and performed exceptionally during the course of the presentation.

Veterans Receive Computers

Two U.S. Army veterans received two new computers from the Veterans Affairs Department in Guam. Veterans Ruben Dannis and Strick Richardo received the computers as part of their entitlement under the Post 9/11 Montgomery GI Bill. The two were recommended through the College of Micronesia-FSM. Other military veterans have submitted their requests for training equipment letters and are waiting for their own computers to arrive.

Students Disappointed with Condition of Huts (By SBA Media Relations)

It's a major issue for students that need improvements. For some students, the huts are the most comfortable places for them to study and relax between their classes. However, the huts are now trashed and students are now disturbed by the broken tables and chairs and the leaking of roofs. Maintenance has been informed about the situation and has taken some action. The problem is that they are not making it a priority and therefore taking too long to finish the renovations. It is a serious issue for the students who stay in the huts daily, especially during rainy days. Students consider the huts as the most comfortable places for them to stay. It's a place where they feel some sense of ownership over just like the library to some students. So, all we want to say is that we need out huts to be renovated immediately.

Thieves Break in to National Campus Business Office

Employees of the National Campus administration building were stunned when they came to work on the morning of December 6 to find that thieves broke into the business office during the weekend. According to preliminary investigations, there were no signs of forced entry at every possible entry points or any indications of a person climbing into the building.

National Campus Celebrates Aids Day

On the afternoon of December 3, 2010, faculty, staff and students at the National Campus gathered outside the LRC building with posters and signs in support of World Aids Day. The theme for this year's World Aids Day was "Keeping the Promise: Universal Access and Human Rights". The guest speaker was Mr Johnny Ehpel, FSM HIV/AIDS Program Coordinator, who shared that there were 37 reported cases of HIV in the FSM from 1999 – 2009, and there are zero cases reported in 2010. Mr Ehpel encouraged the students to be aware of the safety precautions.

COM-FSM Students Learn Shuuij

On November 26, 2010, the Basic Japanese language students (FL 102) learned the basics of Shuuij or Japanese Calligraphy. The students were instructed by Mr Aso, who came from Japan four days earlier. Some of the students discovered that learning Shuuij is very useful in the process of learning the Japanese characters especially Kanji. All of the students wrote thank you letters to Mr Aso after he returned to Japan.

New Computers Installed at LRC Building

During the December semester break, the IT department at the National Campus installed 40 new Lenovo ThinCentre desktop computers including new battery power supplies at the LRC building at the National Campus. The College funds these kinds of improvements through the student-funded Technology Fee.

More Complete Trail Counseling Program

Seven more students are listed as completers of the College's Trial Counseling Certificate Program. A ceremony was held at the FSM Supreme Court on December 15, 2010, to recognize the seven. The graduates include Tracy Ardos, Tyson Elias, Bensner Fredrick, Quinston Lawrence, Logan Skilling, Jophen Tashibeisap and Sanford Tihpen. The keynote speaker for the ceremony was Associate Justice Bealeen Carl-Worswick.

Yap Students Present on Local Heroes

On November 17, 2010, the Yap Campus Speech Communication

Yap Campus Presenters

(EN/CO 205) students presented their first public speaking presentations to the College Community at Yap. The topic of the presentations was "People in the FSM/ Yap who have had or are having an impact on the country/ State". The speeches were held on the main veranda during the free period for all to attend. The event was attended by faculty, staff, students and members of the public. Some of the names that came up during the presentations were John Haglelgam, Petrus Tun, Manuel Minginfel and John Mangefel. The presenters discussed how each individual had an impact on the FSM or their island.

IREI Donates to COM-FSM

Ruthann Swanson from the Island Research & Education Initiative (IREI) made a donation of 25 various language materials to the Pacific Collection on November 17, 2010. Acting LRC Director, Mr Bruce Robert, received the donations on behalf of the College. This is part of a donation that was previously received for the Curriculum Resource Center. Mr Robert thanked Ruthann Swanson and IREI for their contribution and support.

Pohnpei campuses are finalized; College-wide responsibility to be centralized at the National Campus; vice presidents to coordinate and implement their respective programs and services consistently across all campuses; academic chairs to be centralized at the National Campus and to work with academic and vocational/ career chairs at state campuses; state campus business office personnel to report directly to the campus director; human resources specialists, IT staff and maintenance staff at state campuses to report directly to their respective directors at the National Campus in consultation with their campus directors; the institutional research and planning director and the development and community relations director to report directly to the president; student services coordinators to report to the vice president for student services in consultation with campus directors; state campus office of admissions and records as well as financial aid office personnel to report directly to student service coordinators with consultation with campus directors; state campus library staff to report directly to the director of learning resources center in consultation with the state campus directors; new focus will be on cohort model for low enrollment programs and other issues from Instructional Master Plan; and increased emphasis to be placed on workforce training. The streamlining and job audit recommendations also took into consideration the following possible impacts on students: some low enrollment programs will move to a cohort basis; students in ACE and academic related programs to transfer to the National Campus and students in Public Health and Nursing to transfer to Pohnpei Campus; distance learning to be implemented between campuses; increased emphasis on workforce; and Implementation of the performance management program will ensure more consistent and reliable services to students. The implementation of the job audit is set for January 2011. It is expected that the processing of personnel actions may take more time. However, the effective date for all personnel actions will be January 1, 2011.

Library Staff Attend PIALA at Chuuk Campus

The College of Micronesia-FSM library staff from all College libraries participated in the 20th Pacific Islands Association of Libraries, Archives and Museums conference in Chuuk on November 15-19, 2010. The theme of the conference was "Libraries, Archives, and Museums Helping Create Futures: Building on Culture, Knowledge, and Information through Collaboration and Resource Sharing". The participants from the College were able to benefit from the information sharing in the areas of library projects, library opportunities, reference tools and useful library tips for librarians. Karleen Manuel Samuel of the National Campus learning resources center (LRC) gave a presentation on a special project called Pacific Digital Library at the conference. The project started after a workshop on digitization that took place at the College in May 2009 by the Pacific Resource for Education and Learning Center for the US affiliated Pacific Region libraries. The project is available online and it includes such materials as the Micronesian Reporter, which was published by the office of the high commissioner during the Trust Territory times, Xavier High School yearbooks, local and state constitutions and some other books in local Micronesian languages. The volume and quantity of the online library is continually expanding through the input by librarians, museum staff, archivists and educator members from the US affiliated Pacific Islands and their goal is to continue to make more locally produced materials accessible online for students, teachers, administrators and community members. The project is now available online at www.pacificdigitallibrary.org. Suggestions for additional materials are welcome and can be directed to Jane Barnwell at barnwellj@prel.org. During the week of the conference, all College library staff met and discussed the Connection to Collection grant, a grant which was awarded to the FSM Libraries in 2010 for the FSM's heritage collections. The 2010 PIALA conference was organized by the Chuuk Association Libraries. The College was represented by VPIA Jean Thoulag, Acting LRC Director Lucy Oducado, Juvel Rempis, Julia Martin and Karleen Manuel Samuel from National Campus, Susan Guarin from Yap Campus, Michael Williams from Kosrae Campus, Alice Pegal from FSM-FMI Campus, Meshina Ezekias from Pohnpei Campus, and Eric Eria, Jayleen Kokis and Mac Emwalu from Chuuk Campus.

Apprenticeship Trainees Placed in Workforce

Four Trade and Technology students and four graduates are now placed in the workforce to begin their on-the-job training (OJT) as required by the apprenticeship training program, on December 1, 2010. They were placed at the different worksites as apprentices to perform their OJT in their respective occupations as required by the US Department of Labor (DOL) Apprenticeship Training Program. Two apprentices, Barry Diopulos and Ricky Mudong Jr, were placed at FSM Telecommunications Corporation. Sailas Alexie, Jayrick Sultan and Naynard David were placed at COM-FSM National Campus Maintenance Division. Jimmy Silbanuz, Texci Tihpen, and Taylor Adino were placed at COM-FSM Pohnpei Campus Maintenance Division. At a later date, two of these apprentices will be placed at Pohnpei Utilities Corporation (PUC).

The apprenticeship training program requires the completion of a certificate of achievement in a technology & trades program at Pohnpei Campus and 8000 hours of OJT. Within four years, the apprentices are expected to complete these requirements to obtain their Journeyman certifications as sponsored by the U.S. DOL Apprenticeship Training Program.

This training program is a collaborative effort between COM-FSM, Pohnpei State Department of Education (WD&ST), FSMTC and PUC.

PHTP Students Visit Okinawa, Japan

Eight COM-FSM students traveled to Okinawa, Japan, and explored the rural health care practices in December. The students were selected from the PHTP and HCOP programs at the National Campus. The students spent eight days exploring how health care is provided to the outer islands and rural areas of the Okinawa Prefecture in Japan. The group left for Japan on December 11, traveled to the towns of Naha and Nago, and returned to Pohnpei on December 20. During their stay in Japan, they met with Japanese medical students, visited multiple hospital centers, met with community members in rural areas, and conducted field studies in the Ogimi village. The program allowed an opportunity for the students to learn about the rural health care delivery practices of another nation and to bring those lessons back to the FSM. The trip was part of a learning exchange program funded by the Sasakawa Peace Foundation, based in Tokyo, Japan. In addition to providing Micronesian students the opportunity to explore health care in Japan, the Sasakawa Peace Foundation will bring Japanese medical students to the FSM in 2011 to learn about health care practices here. The exchange provides a wonderful chance for cross-cultural education for all involved.

The participating students were Gendalin Amram, Mahoney Augustine Jr., Aaron Daunny, Lisa Christine Ditchen, Samuel Foulchag, Sharon Jim, CharMarie Rufes, and Karmerihter Thozes. The group was accompanied by Emily Pedneau, a faculty member from the PHTP and HCOP prior to their trip to Japan PHTP program.

College Helps Island Farm at Aringel Village, Yap

Small-scale farming through the assistance of the College's Agriculture and Experiment Station has transformed a farm at Aringel Village in Yap into a successful farm. According to the AES researcher at Yap Campus, Dr Murukesan V Krishnapillai, this kind of small-scale farming is one of the thrust areas that AES Yap is doing. Dr Muru stated that small-scale farming at the family level offers a solution to the rising demand for food. Multi-function small farms contribute to the livelihood strategy for islanders, since this farming technique incorporates in-built resilience mechanisms that will be crucial in the context of climate change, such as diversity in crop mixes and better management of soil and water. Small-scale farming is not only defined by its smaller size, but even more by the fact that it is better adapted to local conditions. Since early 2009, Yap AES is providing outreach and technical assistance in a wide range of areas that include nursery management, nutrient management, pest management, soil management and composting. Timely intervention and extension support helped the clients to incorporate a wide range of vegetables to the survival garden eventually transforming it into a successful business venture. These clients successfully replicated many low-cost vegetable cultivation models and in 2009 reported over $9000 in gross sales. Once a rare commodity, fresh garden produce is now readily available for every household in Yap.

Dr Muru said that small farms are big news these days. According to Bill Gates, "helping the poorest small-holder farmers grow more crops and get them to market is the world's single most powerful level for reducing hunger and poverty." Food and Agriculture Organization and World Bank are re-discovering small-scale family farming as an important development area, and target for investments to fight hunger. Estimates are that the next peak in oil prices will cause an acute crisis and famine of global magnitude. Increasing small-scale farmers' yields through low input methods are likely to be the cheapest way to prevent food crisis from getting out of control. Yap AES believes that small-scale farming has the potential to succeed in Yap since this model takes into consideration vulnerable populations that must tolerate local cultures and local ecosystems while ensuring food security.
