

Impact of Job Audit and Streamlining on Students

- Some low enrollment programs will move to a cohort basis (programs will be offered at specific intervals based on the number of students ready to enroll in the program).
- Student in ACE and academic related program will transfer to the National Campus and students in Public Health and Nursing would transfer to Pohnpei Campus. A transportation system would be expanded between the National and Pohnpei Campus that would benefit all students.
- Distance learning delivery of courses would benefit all campuses. Courses that do not have sufficient enrollment at any one campus may have sufficient enrollment for system course delivery. Distance learning delivery may also benefit campuses where faculty is not available for course delivery.
- Increased emphasis on workforce training (short term) can open up the college to address specific training, development, and upgrading needs of individual in the workforce and those who are interested in developing specific employment skills.
- Implementation of the performance management program will assist more consistent and reliable services to students.
